BATTLEFIELD PARK PLANNED AT MANASSAS

Association in Drive for $1,650,000 to Memorialize Civil War Heroes.

Establishment of a battlefield park on the grounds of the first and second battles of Manassas is the objective of a drive now under way in sixteen states and the District of Columbia for $1,650,000 by the Manassas Battlefield "Confederate Park, Inc. The District has been asked to contribute $100,000 toward this park, which will be "in memory of the armies who fought in these battles," and, it is claimed, will be the equal of Gettysburg and Chickamauga.

The battlefields will be purchased, a museum will be constructed; walks, streets and roads will be laid out; markers, memorials and monuments will be erected, and a complete scheme of tablets and monuments placed from Washington to Thoroughfare Gap to interpret the historic spots adjacent to Manassas. The park will be on the Lee highway about thirty miles from Washington, and is therefore in close enough proximity to be visited annually by thousands of tourists and visitors who come to the National Capital.

Maj. E. W. R. Ewing of Virginia is president of the Battlefield Park Corporation. He is on the legal staff of the United States Department of the Interior. Maj. Ewing served with distinction in the Spanish-American war and as historian general of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

A board of control has been appointed. The board includes in its membership Representative H. Watson Moore of Virginia, vice chairman; Col. Robert E. Lee, Gen. Lee's grandson; Gen. Nathan B. Forrest, Sons of Confederate Veterans, Atlanta, Ga.; Col. McDonald Lee, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler, president, general United Confederate Veterans, New York city; Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president general of the Confederate Memorial Association, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. S. M. Davis-Roy, Front Royal, Va.; Mrs. W. E. Hunter, Washington, D. C.; Capt. Fred Beall, commander of the Washington Camp, United Confederate Veterans, Washington, D. C.; Arthur H. Jennings, historian-in-chief, Sons of Confederate Veterans, Lynchburg, Va.; E. S. Turner, Warrenton, Va.; Col. E. B. White, Leesburg, Va.; William L. Old, Jr., Norfolk, Va.; Maj. Wallace Streeter, Washington, D. C.; and Gen. K. M. Van Zandt, Dallas, Tex.

The general headquarters for the campaign have been established at 1415 I street northwest, Washington, under the general direction of Dr. Owens, with Mr. Phil Simmons as executive director. Other offices will be opened at central points in the south as the campaign progresses.

MEMORIAL FOREST URGED

Association Asks Honor for Dr. Joseph Trimble Rothrock.

In a telegram yesterday to Gov. Sprout of Pennsylvania the American Forestry Association urges that the state set aside a memorial forest area in honor of Dr. Joseph Trimble Rothrock, the pioneer in forestry, whose death is announced in dispatches from West Chester, Pa.

Dr. Rothrock, who was a vice president of the American Forestry Association at the time of his death and was world famous as a botanist and big game hunter, had just retired from the forest service board of Pennsylvania. He was known throughout the world as the inventor of the forest preservation method used by explorers and travelers.

INCREASES SENATE HELP.

Coming to the assistance of the employees of the Senate, who by the long daily sessions have been compelled to work overtime for weeks, Senator France of Maryland yesterday introduced a resolution authorizing the employment of additional help.

The Senate pages, who do their studying and attend school at night because they must be in the Senate during the day, have been unable to attend school for weeks because the sessions run until 10 o'clock at night. Other employees of the Senate are kept on for long hours.

The night sessions are expected to continue until the tariff bill has been disposed of.

EDWIN MARKHAM TELLS STORY OF LINCOLN POEM

Autographed Copies Presented to Guests at Popular Government League Luncheon.

Edwin Markham, author of the poem on Lincoln which was read last week at the dedication of the Lincoln Memorial, explained how he happened to write this famous composition, in addressing members of the National Popular Government League at a luncheon in the poet's honor given yesterday afternoon at the Ebbitt Hotel.

Mr. Markham disclosed that his Lincoln poem was written at the request of a New York club, to be read at a special dinner to which the poet gave in connection with the birthday anniversary of the great emancipator. For three weeks preceding the dinner he had, he worried day and night over his subject, and not until the night before the dinner, at 2 o'clock in the morning, did the idea of the poem come to him. The rest was easy, he declared.

In response to a request of a member of the league, Mr. Markham read the poem in an inspiring manner. He also gave those present autographed copies of the poem, which he had signed and numbered of his favorite poems, including his celebrated "The Man With the Hoe," which he pointed out, had been misunderstood by many persons.

He defined poetry as the language of the heart, as differentiated from science, which, he asserted, was the expression of the intellect. Everything an ear hears is poetical, he said. He told the members of his early life, spent as a cowboy and plowboy on his mother's ranch in California.

Preceding the luncheon an informal reception was held in the lobby of the hotel, Judson King presenting the guests to the poet, Mrs. Alice Thacher Post presided at the luncheon.

ACTION THIS WEEK ON D. C. FISCAL BILL

Senator Phipps Expects House to Pass Surplus Inquiry Measure, Also.

The District appropriation bill and the taxation rider will be disposed of in the Senate some time this week, in the opinion of Senator Phipps of Colorado, who has charge of the bill.

Senator Phipps pointed out last night that the House rules committee has reported favorably to the Senate the Senate concurrent resolution providing for a joint congressional committee to investigate the matter of the surplus revenues of the District, now amounting to about $5,000,000, and to report to Congress thereon.

He said that he hoped the House would pass this resolution this week, and indicated that he might wait until after the House acts on it before calling on the District bill. This would obviate any necessity of having the tax rider carry a provision for such an investigation, he said.

The rider, he expected, will be amended so that the payments on real property in the District will be made twice a year instead of once a year, so as to aid in putting the District on a cash-paying basis, before the District bill becomes a law.

SUMMER TERM IN LAW.

National University School to Open June 6.

The summer term of the National University Law School will open June 16 to run for a period of eleven weeks. It was announced today by Dean Charles F. Carusi. The summer term is an integral part of the standard degree course of the law school.

The school year at the institution has been divided into four terms—summer, fall, winter and spring—and any three terms constitute a school year within the requirement of three school years for the bachelor's degree. This step has been taken, Dean Carusi explained, largely as a result of the increase in attendance during the summer of law students in Washington.

FEW TEACHERS ENROLLED

Junior High Course of Instruction May Be Abandoned.

Unless more seventh and eighth grade teachers register immediately for the special junior high school course, arranged to be given at Central High School during the summer under the joint direction of school authorities and George Washington University, it will be abandoned, it was announced last night by Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools.

Up to the present time, Dr. Ballou said, the required number of teachers had not been registered for the course. In order that there may be no delay in the completion of the arrangements for the summer, the superintendent said it is necessary that the teachers interested register at once.

PRESIDENT BACKS CADET:

Disapproves Court-Martial of Student at West Point.

President Harding has disapproved the sentence of dismissal imposed by a general court-martial at West Point, N. Y., in the case of Cadet Corp. Alexander G. Greig, third class, Corps of Cadets.

"The court," said the President in his review of the case, "found Cadet Greig guilty of willfully and knowingly making a false certificate that written work submitted by him to the department of English in a general review was exclusively his own, whereas in fact it was the work of another, and if I were satisfied that the evidence warranted such a finding, I should have no hesitation in confirming the sentence of dismissal, since it is of the utmost importance that cadets who are to be future officers of the Army should be impressed with the necessity of absolute truthfulness in official reports, and that those high standards of scrupulous honesty and individual honor which have always characterized the Corps of Cadets at the Military Academy be maintained."

A careful study of the evidence in this case, however, fails to satisfy me that the accused acted with a dishonest motive, which is the gravamen of the offense charged, and for that reason the findings and sentence are disapproved."

ASKS TO BE RETIRED.

Rear Admiral William H. G. Bullard, commanding the Yangtze patrol force in China, has applied to the Navy Department for retirement under the forty-year service clause of the retirement law. His application undoubtedly will be granted, and another officer of high rank assigned to relieve him from duty in China.

ASKS $10,000 FOR DEATH.

Lucy E. Brown, administratrix of the estate of her son, Lindsay R. Brown, has filed suit in the District Supreme Court to recover $10,000 damages from Herbert Baumgardner. The defendant is said to be the owner of an automobile which collided with the boy and killed him in Potomac Park June 5, 1921. Attorneys Otto A. Scholobohm and W. E. Humphrey appear for the plaintiff.

HONOR DEGREES BESTOWED BY G. U.

George E. Hamilton Among Five to Receive Distinction at Annual Commencement.

Announcement by President John B. Creedon, S. J., of the five men upon whom Georgetown University will confer honorary degrees on the occasion of its 123d annual commencement day, June 12, virtually completes all plans for the three days of activity on the Hilltop.

Georgetown has singled out George E. Hamilton, dean of the Washington bar, for the highest honor within its privilege to bestow with its decision to award him the degree of doctor of canon and civil laws. Only twice before in the 123 years of the institution has this degree been extended, subject to the composition of civil law first to Gen. Rosecrans of civil war fame, and last fall upon Marshal Ferdinand Foch of France on the occasion of his visit to the historic college.

Marks Graduation Anniversary.

The degree will be conferred upon Mr. Hamilton not only on account of his standing in his profession, but also in recognition of the golden jubilee of his own graduation from Georgetown College in 1872. As professor and dean of the Georgetown School of Law, Mr. Hamilton has served his alma mater almost continuously since then.

Others upon whom Georgetown will confer degrees are James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, who will be given a doctor of laws degree in recognition of his services in the extension of foreign trade; Maj. William H. Henson, U. S. A., will be made an honorary doctor of military science for his efficient administration of the R. O. T. C. unit at Georgetown.

Doctor of Philosophy.

Degrees of doctor of philosophy will be conferred upon Dr. Guillermo A. Sherwell of the Inter-American High Commission and member of the Foreign Service School faculty, and upon Joseph Derivaux of Oil City, Pa., a Georgetown alumnus.

A thesis on Spanish literature, "Don Francisco de Quevedo; His Time and His Contemporaries," will be presented by Dr. Sherwell, while the subject of Mr. Derivaux's thesis is "The Sociological Aspect of Engineering."

MEET AT EBBITT HOUSE.

Sons of Veterans and Auxiliary to Hold Annual Convention.

The annual encampment of the division of Maryland, Sons of Veterans, and the division of Maryland Auxiliary, will meet tomorrow at the Ebbitt House.

The session tomorrow will convene at 10 o'clock a.m., with the opening address by Division Commander Frank A. de Groot. Department Commander H. L. Deam of the Department of the Potomac, G. A. R., will speak.

The following committee has charge of the arrangements for the division encampment: Capt. Francis E. Cross, chairman; F. T. F. Johnson, Everett F. Warner, V. L. Garrigue, C. S. Davis, Corbin Birch, J. Clinton Hiatt, O. A. C. Oehmler, J. W. Lyon, A. A. Taylor, Miss Gretchen Bergan and Mrs. E. H. R. Davis.
